“Freely have we received of gifts that minister to our needs of body and spirit.
Gladly we bring to our church and its wide concerns
a portion of this bounty.”

Prometheus and the Dragon

Prometheus — Champion of mankind, known for his wily intelligence, who stole fire from Zeus and gave it to mortals. His story has been treated by a number of ancient sources, in which Prometheus is credited with — or blamed for — playing a pivotal role in the early history of mankind.

The Dragon — Creature of legend, typically with serpentine or reptilian traits, often held to have major spiritual significance in various religions and cultures around the world. Dragons symbolize the primal forces of nature, religion and the universe, and are associated with wisdom and longevity.
